In order to exercise the right to withdrawal, the Consumer shall submit a written statement within the withdrawal period. In the event of a withdrawal submitted effectively by the Consumer, the sales contract is considered as uncompleted.

2. The period of withdrawal from the contract starts:

a) for the contracts whereby the Seller delivers the Product, being obliged to transfer the ownership right onto the Consumer - upon receiving the Product and taking into possession, by the Consumer or a third party indicated by him, other than the carrier, and in the case of a contract which:

- includes several items to be delivered separately, in batches or in parts - upon taking into possession the last thing, batch or part;

- involves regular delivery of items for a limited time - upon taking into possession the first item delivered.

b) for all other contracts - from the date of conclusion of the sales contract.

3. Should the Consumer submit a withdrawal statement before the Seller processed his order, i.e. sent order confirmation, the offer ceases to be binding.

4. The Consumer may withdraw from the contract by submitting to the Seller a declaration of withdrawal from the contract. The Consumer may use the withdrawal form template, which constitutes an annex to these Regulations.

5. The Seller shall immediately, but no later than within 14 days from the date of receipt of the Customer's statement of withdrawal from the contract, return to the Customer all payments made by him up to this moment.

6. The Seller shall return the payment using the same payment methods that were used by the Consumer in the initial transaction, unless the Consumer has explicitly agreed otherwise; in any case, the Consumer will not incur any fees in connection with this refund.

7. Should the Seller not offer to collect the Product from the Consumer himself, he may withhold reimbursement of payments received from the Customer until receiving the Product or proof of posting, whichever occurs first.

8. The Consumer is obliged to return the Product to the Seller or a person authorized by the Seller immediately, but no later than within 14 days from the date on which he withdrew from the contract, unless the Seller offered to collect the Product from the Consumer himself.

9. The Consumer bears direct costs of returning the Product.

10. The Consumer shall be liable to compensate the Seller for the reduction in the Product's value, resulting from its usage beyond what is necessary to ascertain the features or functionality of the Product.

11. If the Consumer exercises the right to withdrawal after submitting the request to receive the service before the expiry of withdrawal period, the Consumer is obliged to pay for the services provided before his withdrawal from the contract.

13. The Consumer is not entitled to the right to withdraw from a remotely concluded contract in relation to contracts:

COMPLAINTS

1. Goods provided by the Seller shall be free of defects. The Seller shall be liable before the Buyer under warranty if any physical or legal (warrant) defect of the sold goods is detected.

2. If the sold item has a defect, the Buyer may submit a notice demanding price reduction or withdrawal from the contract, unless the Seller immediately and without excessive inconvenience for the Buyer replaces the defective item with a defect-free one or remove the defect. These requirements do not apply if the item has already been replaced or repaired by the Seller or he did not fulfil the obligation to replace the item with a defect-free one or remove the defects.

3. The Buyer may, instead of the defect being removed, as proposed by the Seller, demand that the item be replaced with one that is free of defects, or instead of the item being replaced, demand that the defect be removed, unless the lack of conformity is impossible to be removed in the manner chosen by the Buyer or would require incurring excess costs in comparison with the manner proposed by the Seller. For the assessment of the excess costs, the value of the item free of defects, the type and significance of the defect detected, as well as the inconvenience the Buyer would bear if the lack of conformity was resolved in another manner, are all taken into consideration.

4. If the sold item has a defect, the Buyer may request replacement of the defective item with a defect-free one or removal of the defect. The Seller is obliged to replace the defective item with a defect-free one or remove the defect within a reasonable time without excessive inconvenience for the Buyer. The Seller can refuse to fulfil the Buyer's demands if it is not possible to conform to the sales contract in a manner chosen by the Buyer or would require incurring excess costs in comparison with another manner to conform to the sales contract. The costs of repair or replacement shall be borne by the Seller.

5. Any complaints shall be submitted in writing to the correspondence address of Life Arcadia Limited: ul. Zeylanda 3/6, 60-808 Poznań, and shall include:

- a) the Buyer's full name, address, e-mail address, telephone number,
- b) the date of conclusion of the contract in regard of which the complaint is made,
- c) the subject of the complaint and the Buyer's request,
- d) any circumstances that justify the complaint,

6. When submitting a complaint, the Buyer shall provide the Seller with the defective item along with the proof of purchase and pieces of information stipulated in the preceding paragraph.

7. The Seller is liable under the warranty if the physical defect is detected within two years of the product being delivered to the Buyer. A claim for defect removal or item replacement expires after one year from the date on which the defect was detected or within two years of the product being handed over to the Buyer, whichever occurs first. Within this period, the Buyer may withdraw from the sales contract or submit a request for price reduction in connection with the defect of the product. If the Buyer already made a claim to have the goods replaced or the defects removed, the period for submitting withdrawal from the sales contract or request for price reduction starts from the date with the ineffective expiry of the deadline for replacing the item or removing the defect.

8. The Seller shall consider the complaint within 14 days from the date of its receipt. In the event of closing the complaint in favour of the Buyer, the Seller shall repair or replace the defective product for a new and defect-free one or refund the sale price. The Buyer will be informed by email or traditional mail about how the complaint was handled.

9. The sale price of the product with regard to which the Seller processed the complaint shall be refunded within 14 days from the date of processing the complaint, using the same payment method that was used by the Buyer in the initial transaction.
